

Bellbrook Senior Center

The Bellbrook Senior Center is a component of the Bellbrook Sugar Creek Park District (BSPD), with most programs and activities taking place at the District's Community Center at 2751 Washington Mill Road in Bellbrook.

The Center is funded, in part, by a Greene County Council On Aging (GCCOA) grant through the Senior Services Levy.

About the BSPD

The BSPD, created in 1972, is a community treasure. They are responsible for 670 acres of parks, offering educational and recreational programming for residents of all ages.

Exciting Changes in the New Year

We are thrilled to share that the Bellbrook Sugar Creek Park District will be taking on the official role of the Bellbrook Senior Center in the new year. The Council will continue to partner with the Park District, but the ongoing planning and running of weekly, bi-weekly and monthly programming will be the responsibility of the Park District. The Bellbrook Sugar Creek Park District will join the eight other Greene County senior centers in providing activities and programs and, as of 2023, will receive grant funding for staffing and administration.

The most exciting part of this change is the enthusiastic Park District team who will be the face of Center activities and programs and with whom current and soon-to-be participants will interact and connect. Gracie Huff is the Park Naturalist and the Center coordinator. She and her colleagues have a true heart for seniors and are looking forward to meeting and reaching out to area seniors. Gracie has a special interest in local wildlife, loves to teach about the natural world, and loves to cook and try new recipes.

Heather Luby is the District's Program Coordinator, a former fitness instructor, and has several years of experience working with senior groups. And Heather Ficke is the District's Program Manager. She enjoys history and hearing people share their stories and experiences with one another.
